

There should be a law against the telemarketers being able to make waves about the situation. I personally enjoy my nights without being harrassed by unwanted phone calls that disturb you through dinner and your favorite nightly show. Keep the Law as strict as it is. We as Americans should have the right to decide if we want our home invaded by annoying phone calls.